Society to Give Street Fair. And Circus at Southampton

In Addition to Attractions From Luna Park, Khaldah, the Telepathist, Will Exhibit Occult Powers and Caruso Will Draw Cartoons for Hospital Fund

Southampton, L. I., will have the first large entertainment for charity of this season this week, when the much talked of street fair and circus will be given at Agawam Park. It will be held Friday afternoon and evening, and the proceeds will go to the Southampton Hospital.

Mrs. Albert Gallatin is chairman of the day's entertainment, and associated with her on the general committee are Mrs. Stewart Walker, in charge of the decorations; Mrs. Thomas Morrison-Carnegie, treasurer; Mrs. Frederick M. Davies, secretary, and Mrs. Joseph R. Elworth, publicity.

There are several other committees in charge of special features of the day. Mrs. Lytle Fox, chairman of the circus, which is to be held in a tent in the park, has obtained many attractions from Luna Park, and these will be conveyed to Southampton in a special car donated by Ralph Peters, of the Long Island Railroad.

The attractions for the day include Khaldah, the famous Egyptian telepathist, who will give exhibitions of his occult powers; Enrico Caruso, who has volunteered to give a public exhibition of his abilities as a cartoonist and sell his sketches; two professional dancers, who will give exhibitions, and there will be tables at which everything imaginable will be sold, including the latest fashions in summer and fall hats.

Great interest in Khaldah. Several ponies have been borrowed for the day and also a number of the small motor buckboards, and on these rides will be sold. There will be an elaborate motion picture from New York, and other attractions too numerous to mention. The Shinnecock Golf Club will give up its Friday evening dance so that Khaldah's orchestra may play for the dancing. Europe's band, from Luna Park, also will play.

Khaldah's services have been secured by Colonel H. H. Rogers, who is donating all the expenses. So much interest has been aroused by the announcement of Khaldah's appearance at the fair, and so many persons are desiring to hear him that it has been decided to give four performances, two in the afternoon and two in the evening. Tickets at $2 may be obtained from Mrs. Oren Root. There also will be individual readings of clairvoyance given by those who desire it. A hand writing expert has been engaged, and the charge for consultation with any of these experts will be $1. Mrs. Davis Duns has obtained the services of a photographer from Luna Park.

In addition to all the above mentioned attractions, the committee has many surprises in store which will prove of unusual interest to those who attend the fair.

The committee, which obtained the services of Khaldah, includes Mrs. William Hopkin, chairman; Mrs. Charles E. Mitchell, Mrs. Oren Root, Mrs. Elihu Root Jr., Mrs. John Wolfe, Mrs. Jerome Brush and Mrs. Joseph Earle Stevens.

Women to Preside at Booths. Among the women who will be at the various booths are Mrs. George G. Dewitt, Mrs. James Barre, and Mrs. Morton Grinnell, who will sell books. At the Liberty table will be Mr. and Mrs. Theron R. Strong and Mr. and Mrs. John Archibald. At another table will be Mrs. Barston, Mrs. Archibald Brown and others.

The fountains will be looked after by Mrs. Henry Mellon, chairman; Mrs. J. Cooper Lord and Mrs.

Henry du Pont. Mr. and Mrs. Caruso will be in charge of the caricatures. Dancing will be looked after by Mrs. Arthur Clavin, Mrs. James L. Breese, Mrs. Robert Breese and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston. At the candy and ice cream cone table will be Mrs. Edward Twining Jr., Miss Johnston, Mrs. Philip Armour, Miss E. Stelman, Miss Evelyn Preston and Miss Helen Krech.

In the tea room will be Mrs. Rufus Patterson, Mrs. Edward Van Ingen, Mrs. De Lancey Kountze, Mrs. E. M. Horne, Mrs. Joseph S. Stevens, Mrs. Halsey, Mrs. Alvin K. Krech, Mrs. Alfred Schermerhorn, Mrs. Tiffany Richardson and others.

At the Southampton Chinese novelty table will be Mrs. Victor Mapes, chairman; Mrs. H. Barker, Mrs. E. C. Potter, Mrs. Adrian Larkin, Mrs. Edward Mellon, Mrs. S. A. McClurg, Mrs. Caleb Hammel and Mrs. J. D. Sawyer. Miss Peggy Perkins will be in charge of balloons.

Mrs. Barton French will serve as chairman of the hat booth and associated with her will be Mrs. William C. Potter, Mrs. J. Searle Barclay Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Sabin, Mrs. Hobart Chaffield Taylor and Mrs. H. H. Rogers.

Several of the young women of the summer colony will act as mannequins, including Miss Millicent Rogers, Miss Jean Potter and Miss Ivy English.

Mrs. J. Thelus Munds and Mrs. Howard Dickinson will have assisting her the sale of tickets for the pony rides and buckboards and Mrs. Rawson W. Wood, chairman of the tabacconia table, will have assisting her Mrs. J. Thelus Munds and Mrs. Howard Dickinson.

Paul Smith's Expects Gov. Cox as Sojourner

Samuel Untermyer Invites the Presidential Candidate to His Camp on the St. Regis Lakes

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., July 24.—The chances seem good that Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, Democratic nominee for President, may make a short sojourn on the St. Regis Lakes at Paul Smith's, this season, possibly some time in August.

Samuel Untermyer, personal friend of the nominee, has leased the Stuart camp on the Upper St. Regis for the season and arrived this week with his family. Mr. Untermyer has extended an invitation to Governor Cox to visit him there, and as several of the other Democratic leaders will sojourn in other parts of the mountains it is considered likely that Governor Cox will accept the invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Louis Slade, of New York have opened their camp on the Upper St. Regis.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rockefeller are at recent arrivals at their Bay Pond place, where they will remain for several weeks.

Mrs. Robert Hoe and Mrs. Robert Hoe Jr. are at Point Rush, the Hoe camp on the Upper St. Regis Lake.

Mrs. Sidney Drew is at the Rauch Camp on the Upper St. Regis Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hutton have arrived at their honeymoon sojourn at the Upper St. Regis camp of Herbert Lee Pratt, of New York, which they have leased for the season. Mrs. Hutton was formerly Mrs. Marjorie Post.

Preston Gibson has joined Mrs. Gibson in camp on the Lower St. Regis Lake.

First of the charity events to call members of the camp colony together was the Hampton meeting at Paul Smith's Hotel last evening in aid of Hampton Institute. Music by the Hampton Quartet and addresses by C. Kamba Simango, native African, and Francis Verigan, Alaskan Indian, were features of the program.

Mrs. A. J. Milbank, of New York, has opened her cottage.

Mrs. Sarah Stokes Halkett, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Spencer, Mrs. M. J. Harahan and Miss Harahan, of New York, are among the arrivals at Paul Smith's for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Pearson and O. S. Redfield, of Greenwich, Conn., and Miss Margaret Wilson, of Binghamton, are members of a party sojourning at Paul Smith's.

Week-End Dances Become Leading Diversion at Lenox

Saturday Afternoon Teas. in Charge of Mrs. E. T. Rice and Mrs. P. Blagden, Started at Stockbridge Club

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. LENOX, Mass., July 24.—Dances are the leading feature in Lenox this season, and one is to be held each Friday night at the Lenox Club for entertainment of week-end visitors.

The Saturday afternoon teas at the Stockbridge Golf Club were started today and will continue the remainder of the season. Mrs. Edwin T. Rice poured. She and Mrs. Phillips Blagden have charge of the teas. Mrs. Rice also is chairman of the tennis committee which has arranged for a tournament to start August 17, following the golf tournament.

Mrs. Banyer Clarkson had the members of the Lenox Garden Club council as guests at her estate in the Tynningham Valley on Monday. She read a paper on "The North Shore Garden," which she recently visited. Miss Georgianna W. Sargent was at the tea table, and among the other soil workers present were Mrs. William Pollock, Mrs. John E. Parsons, Mrs. John E. Alexander, Miss Emily W. Biddle, Mrs. Richard C. Dixey and Miss Mary A. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shields Clarke announce the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice, to George C. Thomas Remington, son of Mrs. W. H. George C. Thomas, of Philadelphia. Mr. Remington is taking an aviation course at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. A self-service dinner at the new cafeteria in the Wendell Hotel at Pittsfield was a novelty for society Monday night. Among those in the company who welcomed their friends were Mrs. Murray Crane, Mrs. George C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Frederick S. Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sprague Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Glaser, Col. Dr. Henry Colt, Miss Fannie E. Colt, George H. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Eaton, Lieutenant Colonel William H. Eaton and Mrs. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings C. Chesney and Miss Margaret Chesney.

Mrs. Raymond T. Baker and George W. and Alfred G. Vanderbilt are at the Lenox Club for several weeks.

Mrs. William D. Sloane has been doing much entertaining for her daughter, Mrs. John Henry Hammond, and granddaughters, the Misses Emily S. Adele S. and Alice F. Hammond, who started on Wednesday for California.

Dinners also were given this week by Mr. and Mrs. Giraud Foster, Mrs. Edith Parsons Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hollister Pease and Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson Jr. Mrs. Thomas Sears Young gave a luncheon for Mrs. Augustus Taibot, of New York, and Mrs. Francis C. Barlow entertained at Sunnybank.

Snapshots Taken at Islip Horse Show

SOCIETY, especially the Long Island set, was out in large numbers at the annual horse show held a week ago yesterday at Oakwood Park, under the auspices of the Islip Polo Club. The lower picture shows the two children of Mrs. William K. Dick, the one on the right by her first husband, the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, and the other a son by her second marriage.

Mrs. S. Bryce Wing and Miss Ethel Carhart were interested spectators at the show. Mrs. Wing was the beautiful Miss Marie Taylor.

Miss Carhart is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Carhart.

Narragansett Pier Colony Prepares for Charity Ball

South County Cottage Hospital at Wakefield Is To Be Chief Beneficiary of Annual Midsummer Affair To Be Given at the Casino Next Friday Night

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 24.—With the near approach of the height of the season at Narragansett the members of the large villa colony and the sojourners in the hotels are looking forward to a succession of brilliant events to take place at the Casino and other fashionable centers of social interest.

First of all, the forthcoming annual midsummer charity ball looms nigh on the social horizon. It is to be given next Friday at the Casino, and it was definitely decided during the week that the specific beneficiary of the ball would be the South County Cottage Hospital, located in Rhode Island's famous South County, at Wakefield.

This hospital, which meets a long-felt need in the summer community, as well as the winter colony, was established two years ago through the instrumentality of Miss Caroline Hazard, formerly president of Wellesley College, whose country place, the Scollap Shell, is at Peace Dale, in the Narragansett region.

The annual bridge tournament for the benefit of the Village Improvement Society, of which Miss Sally R. Baldwin, of Baltimore and the Narragansett Pier villa colony, is president, will take place next Wednesday afternoon.

A concert of a notably high musical character will be given in Memorial Home of St. Peter's-by-the-Sea next Thursday evening. The concert is promoted by Mrs. Marvin White, of Providence and the Narragansett villa colony, for the benefit of the music fund of the church. Mrs. White having charge of the music there. A feature of the concert will be the singing of the "Peter Pan" song cycle by a quartet, the leading singer being Lucy Marsh Gordon, known throughout the country for the beauty of her phonograph records.

Hotels Well Filled. The hotels at Narragansett are now well filled, the Massachusetts, of which Clarence C. Bryant is manager, having a congenial contingent of men and women from the South and Middle states. Dr. J. D. Emmett, of New York, son of the late Dr. Thomas Addis Emmett, is booked to arrive at the Massachusetts.

Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson, of Washington, entertained at a large and brilliant reception at her villa, Rosalind, on Central Street, Wednesday afternoon. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Theodore S. Wilkinson, wife of Lieutenant Commander Wilkinson, of the flag ship Pennsylvania, son of the hostess. One hundred and fifty or more members of the old representatives of the villa colony were present at the reception and the house was decorated with vines, palms and garden flowers. Mrs. Philip M. Prescott and Mrs. John C. Poor, of Washington, presided at the tea table.

New Yorkers Join Pier Colony. Mrs. Joseph Widener, of Philadelphia, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Leidy, at their villa, Rockledge, on the cliffs. Charles P. Taft 2d returned from Murray Bay, Canada, where he hosted his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Taft, going there for the wedding of his sister, Miss Helen Taft, and Frederick Johnson Manning. Mr. Taft has joined his wife and child at Miramar, the villa of Mrs. Taft's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Chase, on Ocean Road.

Overlaid cottage on the Cliffs leased by Mrs. John W. Converse, of Philadelphia, has been sublet to Mrs. A. O. Barclay, of New York, who is occupying the cottage for a time before moving into her recently purchased villa, Shadow Pines on the Cliffs, formerly known as Gillian Lodge.

Elizabethtown, N. Y., July 24.—An added feature obtained for the Elizabethtown "Follies" (first edition), to be produced July 29 and 30 for the benefit of the Cobble Hill Golf Club and for which New York actors and members of the Lambs Club of New York are now assembling here, will be an orchestra composed of members of Prince's band and personally led by Charles Prince.

Edward F. Flammer, manager of the "Follies," who arrived a few days ago from New York, is now at work on the details of the program. Leon Errol will be stage director, and Mr. Flammer has a score or more of voluntary assistants among members of the summer colony. In addition to the male professionals, previously announced, will be Sue MacNunamy, now playing in "The Bat" and wife of Otto Kruger, the Adam of "Adam and Eva," and Myrtle Tannahill. Among the men stars are Barney Bernard, Otto Kruger, Ned Sparks, Fred Santley, Leon Errol, Lieutenant B. C. Hilliam, George Moore and Harry Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Kruger and Mr. and Mrs. Santley arrived this week, joining the house party at Singing Waters, the summer place of Mr. and Mrs. Flammer. Mrs. Edmund Fitzgerald, of New York, is also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Flammer.

Several entertainments will be given for the benefit of the fund for the monument in honor of local heroes of the World War. About $150 for the fund was raised at a sale held by the Civic League.

Miss Jane Pugh, of Brooklyn, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. David Ludlum, at the Ludlum cottage. Mrs. Ludlum is also entertaining Mrs. Frank Barnes, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knapp, of East Orange, have leased a cottage for the season.

The Countess Janni, of New York, who has been staying at Deer's Head Inn, has gone to her cottage for the season.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Stetson and Mrs. J. A. Willard have been joined at Deer's Head Inn by their nephew and the latter's wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Pope. Among the numerous parties in the Windsor grill during the week was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bennett, of Brooklyn, in honor of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Baker, of Brooklyn, who accompanied them at the Windsor for the season.

Miss Teresa Farrell, who, with her mother, occupies the Martin cottage of the Windsor group for the season, also gave a dinner for her friend, Miss Ethel Delahanty.

New York Actors Will Stage Follies at Elizabethtown

Charles Prince Will Lead His Famous Band as Added Attraction; Flammer Busy With Program

Affairs for Charity Claim Attention of Newport Set

Events of Week Include Musical for Benefit of the American Women's Hospitals and Recital Given by Miss Amy Grant in Aid of Big Brothers Camps

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. NEWPORT, R. I., July 24.—Society is turning more toward charities this summer than private social affairs, and it seems as if the wartime activities of the civilians, particularly among the women, had resulted in this legacy of goodness. The women of the summer colony, and those of the army and navy sets, are entering in active work in the interest of the various benefits being given, and not content with acting as patronesses, are also working on the committees which have charge of the affairs.

One of the principal events of the week was the musical at Mrs. Paola Finocchiaro's cottage, Wabun, for the benefit of the American Women's Hospitals. Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice has been engaged to speak on his experiences up the Amazon, a trip from which he recently returned, for the benefit of the Newport Hospital, this week, at the Casino.

The annual horse show at the Casino in September is to be for the benefit of the Newport Hospital.

Miss Amy Grant gave a recital in Howard Hilder's studio this week for the Big Brothers Camps, and for the benefit of the new Navy Club in New York. "Stop Time" by a New York company is to be given at the training station. These are only a few of the events scheduled, but they serve to show that even with the war over, society has not turned its head from charitable purposes.

Governor R. Livingston Beekman has had a busy week, and his little grand son, who is the Governor's nephew, has been making his daily trip to the capitol, in Providence, has been scouting about the bay at all hours. The Governor drives to the New York Yacht Club landing, and returning and speeds up Narragansett Bay to attend to his official duties, returning about 6 in the evening. He made an official inspection Wednesday of the Naval Torpedo Station, the commanding officer, after having returned from New York Tuesday, where he attended the funeral of an old friend.

On Tuesday, the Governor, in his capacity as commander in chief of the state's militia, went to Fort Greble to review the state troops in camp, having luncheon with officers at noon and making an inspection later, before taking the review.

Bishop Bury Delivers Address. An interesting visitor this week has been the Right Rev. Herbert Bury, bishop of the Church of England for Northern and Central Europe. He is a guest of Mrs. William Grosvenor, at Roslyn, and on Friday he spoke on "A Hopeful View of Conditions in Russia" to a large gathering. Bishop Bury wears the ecclesiastical garb of the English churchman, which, because of the breeches and buttoned leggings, attracts much attention here.

Admiral William S. Sims, now president of the Naval War College here, renewed an old friendship this week when Commander Joao Manuel da Carvalho, commanding the Portuguese cruiser Sao Gabriel, came to Newport to review the Wednesday afternoon drill at the training station. Commander Carvalho was Portugal's naval attaché in London during the war, and he and Admiral Sims were close friends. After Wednesday's drill the admiral and Mrs. Sims entertained Commander Carvalho and other guests at tea. Thursday Commander Carvalho returned from Fall River where the Sao Gabriel was anchored last week, for luncheon with the admiral, and on Friday Admiral and Mrs. Sims went to Fall River for luncheon on board the Portuguese cruiser.

Three tennis tournaments were in progress during the week on the Casino courts, a mixed doubles tournament, which was won by Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Gray, being completed Monday; women's handicap doubles starting on Wednesday, and a second mixed doubles tournament beginning yesterday. Added to that was the weekly tournament play in golf yesterday at the Country Club. Last week the event was won by Mrs. Williams P. Burden and George D. Widener. Miss Florence Loew and Roderick Terry Jr. turned in the best gross score, but lost because of handicap.

Bridge Series Opens at Casino. The younger set numbers among its missing members this summer Dorothy Willard, youngest daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Joseph Willard, who, with literary ambition, has forsaken the social activities of Newport to join a community at Camp Wyndon on Lake Morley, Vermont, where she is studying short story writing.

The first of a series of bridge parties which are planned for the Casino will be given Monday afternoon with Mrs. William W. Smyth, wife of Commander Smyth, U. S. N., as hostess. There were eight tables, and following the cessation of play Mrs. Smyth entertained at tea, several additional guests coming in.

Among the yachts which have been in and out of Newport this week were the Aloha, which returned after Commodore and Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James had witnessed Saturday's international yacht race off Sandy Hook; the Mab of the Eastern Yacht Club fleet, E. J. Bliss's schooner Shawnee, the Taylor yacht Petrel, Clarkson Cowie's power boat Navigator, and Daniel Bacon's yawl Solida. The yawl, which is Ruby III, owned by C. S. Taylor of Worcester, attracted much attention in distress off the William B. Leeds place on the cliffs last Sunday, and after being taken in tow by the life savers from Brenton's Point was tied up at the yacht club for repairs.

Beach Is Popular Spot For Westport Sojourners. Management of the Inn Extends Use of Waterfront Ground to Cottagers.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. WESTPORT-ON-LAKE CHAMPLAIN, N. Y., July 24.—The popular spot for sojourners in the Westport cottage colony and at Westport Inn is the beach of North West Bay. The use of the inn beach, the finest on Lake Champlain, has been extended to the cottagers by H. D. Smith, manager of the inn.

Judge H. D. Hotchkiss, of New York, who is at Westport Inn with Mrs. Hotchkiss for the season, was the winner of the eighteen-hole handicap medal play golf tournament, in which all of the cottagers took part, and from the cottages were entered.

Among the younger set there is much interest in the dances held at the inn three nights each week. A series of concerts is being given by the London trio, including Miss Isoline Harvey, of London, violin; Miss Stanger, of New York, cello, and Miss Foster, of New York, piano.

Miss M. H. Elliot, of New York, has arrived to spend the season at Westport Inn.

J. P. Blair, of New York, is among the sojourners at the Westport Inn. Others there from New York include Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Finch, Miss Finch, Miss Grace Brown and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Walz.

Fishing at Poland Spring. Col. W. W. Ladd, of New York, Makes Fine Catches.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. POLAND SPRING, Me., July 24.—The excellent fishing in the lakes and ponds in this vicinity is attracting many anglers. Colonel W. W. Ladd, of New York, has been the most successful thus far, having brought in several strings of three-pound bass.

James Clark McReynolds, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, is at the Poland Spring for a lengthy stay.

Prominent visitors from New York now at the Poland Spring House for a long sojourn include Mrs. R. M. Glenn, Mrs. F. V. Holmes and Miss Francis Glenn.

Mrs. A. P. Riker, of New York, is at the Mansion House.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Miller, of New York, entertained a party at Scarborough Beach Wednesday.

At the Poland Spring House from New York are Mrs. Mercedes Serrano, Miss Ophelia Serrano, Victor Serrano, Mrs. W. H. Newman, Mrs. Volney Hall, S. Jay Kaufman, J. H. Hobbie, the Misses Francine and Stella Larimore, H. J. Unger, Miss C. Unger, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hall, W. C. Burbank, K. A. Goodwin, A. O. B. Beebe, Mrs. George H. Carey and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome C. Adler.

Thorley Home to Give Fair Sale to Aid Claverack Institution for Children

The Lulu Thorley Home for Crippled and Delicate Children, Claverack, N. Y. (Colonel Ward Scott, president), will hold its annual fair next Tuesday. There will be speeches by the president and others. The reception committee will comprise the officers as well as the ladies of Claverack. All sorts of articles will be on sale, as well as ice cream, cake and flowers.

The tables and booths will be in charge of the following chairmen: Mrs. Christine Hawley, Mrs. George Van Vleck, Mrs. Tremaine McKinstry, Mrs. Horace Brown and Miss Eleanor Brown.
